

Is the work in the Public Domain?

Generally, if something was published before 1923, it is in the public domain.
If it was an unpublished work and the author died over 70 years ago, it is in the public domain.
If was written by an anonymous author over 120 years ago, it is in the public domain. Below are some criteria for different publication years to help you determine whether or not the work you wish to use is in the public domain.

Works created after March 1, 1989 and works created earlier but never published follow the same guidelines. Works published prior to March 1, 1989 are subject to specific rules.

Works Created After 3/1/1989 and Unpublished Works

Works Published Prior to 3/1/1989

Author Known or Unknown?

Known author: copyright lasts 70 years after the author's death. Works from authors who died over 70 years ago are in the public domain.

Anonymous, pseudonymous works & corporate works: copyright lasts for 120 years from the date of creation. Works created over 120 years ago are in the public domain.

Death Date of Author unknown: 120 years from the date of creation. Works created over 120 years ago are in the public domain.
